

The purpose of this message is to indicate my support for RM-10352. As the FCC and other regulatory agencies phase out the requirement of CW proficiency for amateur radio licensing, the FCC and these regulatory agencies should take additional steps to ensure that band planning preserves spectrum for these modes because of their superior signal-to-noise-ratio qualities which may be needed under the most adverse conditions during the support of emergency operations and agencies.

Regards,

Mark Shelton
KØMS